

AUSTRIANS MAKING A DESPERATE EFFORT

IN CARPATHIAN DEFILES TO CHECK THE RUSSIAN ADVANCE

PRESSING FORWARD IN IMMENSE FORCE, CZAR'S LEGIONS SEEM ABOUT TO POUR DOWN INTO HUNGARIAN PLAINS

Petrograd, April 6.—Four railroads leading into Hungary are now held by the Russians, who are steadily pressing the Austro-German defenders of the Uzok pass, capture of which will give the Russians a clean sweep into the Hungarian plains.

The enemy at Uzok is menaced from both sides of the Carpathians. Five divisions of Austrians, defeated at Mezo Laborcz with heavy losses, were forced to retreat. The Russians have advanced to the Ciroka river, where a battle is raging on Hungarian soil.

BAVARIANS BEHAVE BADLY

Geneva, April 6.—A bloody battle, which began Saturday along the front extending from Dukla pass to Eperies, in Hungary, resulted in the decisive defeat of the Austro-Germans by the Russians. The new Bavarian division behaved badly and lost 15,000 men Sunday.

Reinforcements are being rushed to stem the Russian advance. Rioting took place in Budapest Sunday.

W. J. Crosby

William J. Crosby was born at Starke, Bradford county, November 8, 1868. His father, James P. Crosby, when a small boy, moved to Florida with his parents from Charleston, S. C. His mother was Louisa Truluck, the third daughter of Judge Joseph and Mrs. Elizabeth Truluck, who were Georgians. Judge Truluck was a prominent man of his day, and a veteran of two Indian wars. The older uncles of William J. Crosby, on both father's and mother's side were Confederate soldiers. When William J. Crosby was six years of age, his father died. He was educated in the public schools of Bradford county. When a young man he moved to Alachua county, where in March 1892 he married Miss Debbie Daniels, of North Carolina and afterwards moved back to Alachua county three years later. This union was blessed with one son, who died at the age of eighteen months and was followed by his mother about two months later, January 2, 1896.

September, 1897, he was married to Miss Rose Evans, of Alachua county. This union has been blessed with seven children, six now living, ages two to sixteen years.

Mr. Crosby has been a life long Democrat. He was a member of the Democratic executive committee of Alachua county for several years, and was a delegate from that county to the last state convention in Jacksonville, June 1900.

He moved to Citra, Marion county August 1, 1900, and has resided there ever since. He has held a number of positions of trust and honor in his town and county. He served his town as mayor, clerk, and councilman for several years. Was a member of the Marion county Democratic executive committee for several years. Was elected commissioner from the fifth district for four years; two years of that time was chairman of the board. How well he lived as a citizen, and served his people as a faithful official was attested by the vote given him in the June primary in 1914, he being nominated by the largest vote ever given a legislative candidate in the county. He has been earnest advocate for the best, in educational lines.

for the state and county, and an active and interested worker for the school in his home town. He is now, and has been for the past ten years, chairman of the board of trustees of the Citra High School district and it is largely due to his untiring efforts that the fine school building is now being erected in Citra. He is progressive. Mr. Crosby is a successful trucker, farmer and orange grower.

Davis of Madison, senator from the tenth district, has no opposition.

REDDICK IS HOLDING ITS END UP

Smart Little Town a Leader in Marion County Industry

Among the prominent Marion county citizens in Ocala today is Mr. C. M. Carn, one of the moving spirits in everything for the advancement of Reddick in particular and the county in general. In conversation with a Star reporter he said that Reddick's latest venture, the peanut butter factory, was proving a success beyond even the expectations of its originators. The factory is running full blast and its product is being sold as rapidly as it can turn out the goods. The entire product of the factory is being handled by Jacksonville jobbers, and the trade is daily growing into a solid substantial asset.

At present the goods are packed in small glasses for the small consumer and in large tin buckets for the bulk consumer. In comparison with the product of other manufacturers of this now recognized staple article the Reddick concern's output shows up most favorably. Besides being a splendid financial venture for those interested directly in the manufacture of peanut butter, it furnished a certain outlet at good prices for the peanuts raised all over this section, which makes it a double blessing to the community.

If Marion county had more industries of this nature, and there is a great many undeveloped possibilities along the same line, there would be less complaint when money matters become stringent in other sections of the country.

MR. LATNER IN NEW QUARTERS

Mr. Herbert Latner, the piano dealer, has moved from Fort King avenue to the Harrington Hall block to Broadway, where he has the store room between the Western Union and the Board of Trade, in the Ocala House block.

The room gives Mr. Latner four times the floor space that he formerly had, which his growing business demanded. The store has been prettily finished inside with dark green wall paper and light or buff ceilings. The big show windows, in each of which he has a piano displayed, have been handsomely finished with hardwood floors. The outside or front of the store has been painted in attractive manner and all together Mr. Latner's new quarters are a credit to his business and enable him to properly display and care for his large stock of instruments.

Both he and his assistant, Mr. G. W. Martin, Jr., are very proud of the new quarters and believe that they will benefit not only in convenience, but financially by the change.

BURNED DRYGOODS AND BOOZE

WHOOPIING COUGH

Well—everyone knows the effect of pine forests on coughs. Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey is a remedy which brings quick relief for whooping cough, loosens the mucous, soothes the lining of the throat and lungs, and makes the coughing spells less severe. A family with growing children should not be without it. Keep it handy for all coughs and colds. 25c. at your druggist.—Adv.

FRENCH ATTACKS HAVE FAILED

MASSING FOR ATTACK ON LINE OF MEUSE

RUSSIAN OFFENSIVE IN NORTH POLAND HAS BEEN SEVERELY REPULSED

Berlin, April 6.—Repulsed in their attempts to pierce the German lines in Flanders, the Champagne and Argonne, the French are undertaking an offensive between the Meuse and Moselle rivers. The enemy is concentrating at Verdun, Apremont, Ailly, Fliry and Pont-a-Mousson.

The Russian offensive in north Poland and west of the Niemen river shows indications of a collapse. The Germans have repulsed attacks in the region of Kalvaria and Augustow.

CAPTURED A CARGO OF CORN

Stockholm, April 6.—The Swedish steamer England, with a cargo of corn from South America to Stockholm, has been seized by the Germans and taken into a German port.

HARRY PETER'S MENAGERIE

Gone to Palatka to Capture the Elk's Cup

Mr. Harry Peter corralled his menagerie at Charlie Goddard's livery emporium this morning, where he hired about twenty young members of the African race to act as nurses for his flock and with the assistance of a number of brother Elks placed little blankets on the live stock. Each blanket bore in big black letters on a white background, "Ocala Lodge No. 286, B. P. O. E."

When the parade was ready the truck carrying the cage with the live elk, the property of the Ocala lodge and probably the only live elk in the south, drawn by Mr. A. T. Thomas' team of dapple grays, led the procession. Following the elk's cage was the donkey and twenty huge billy goats. Where Harry got so many people's goats is not clearly given, but get them he did and believe us, they were "some goats." The parade went once around the square and then to the depot where Hamp Chambers assisted in loading into the specially chartered freight car, which was attached to the 10 o'clock train and with Harry Peter in the caboose to see that his pets went right through and in good shape, the train rolled out for Palatka, where the animals will be in readiness for the great parade at the Elk's state convention in that city tomorrow.

The human members of the lodge will go over tonight and tomorrow in full force and expect to take down that big prize without any difficulty.

Mr. Peter expected to take his parade by the school houses that the little folks might see his pets but there was some delay in getting off and this had to be omitted.

Mr. Peter has had most of the work to do and has labored almost night and day to get the parade in readiness to be shipped. He has been assisted most loyally by the finances by Mr. A. T. Thomas, who held up his brother Elks and took the necessary funds away from them to meet the expenses.

Some of the costumes of the members of the lodge for the parade tomorrow will be great. Mr. Peter himself, however, will wear the neat and clerical garb that he has worn during the past two days, namely: tall silk hat and long Prince Albert coat, relieved from its severity, however, by leather puttees and spurs. Mr. Peter rode in the parade and took to Palatka with him Mr. Sam Igon's beautiful blue ribbon riding horse, with the original blue ribbons attached to his bridle.

All Elks and their friends who can do so should go to Palatka tomorrow and hold up the hands of the few who have worked so hard to make the affair a success. The Elks will try to get the next state convention to come to Ocala and in this, also, they will need assistance.
